

Christoph Ewers comes from South Germany and studied church music and piano at the Musikhochschule Stuttgart. He continued in Tübingen, where he studied Medicine. After working 20 years as a general practitioner he finished working as a medical doctor, took further courses with piano teachers of major renown and began to perform professionally.

He now can look back on successful performances in Germany, Italy, Spain Belgium, France as a soloist, as duo partner with his younger brother Michael (violin) and as duo partner with Michael Kuhn. Cooperation as a chamber music partner with international renowned musicians, or working as a musical arranger, composer and sometimes as a conductor, enrich his unique and exceptional lifestyle.
